

City Council Honors High School's Girls Golf Team for Winning State Championship and Academic Excellence

Members of the 2016-17 Wilsonville High School Varsity Girls Golf team and the Wilsonville City Council celebrating the High School's first ever 5A Girls Golf State championship, which the team won in May.

In June the City Council honored Wilsonville High School's Varsity Girls Golf Team for winning the 5A High School Girls Golf State Championship in May at the Emerald Valley Golf Club, in Creswell. Mayor Tim Knapp and the City Council acknowledged the team's success by declaring the week of June 5-11 as "Wilsonville Wildcats Week."

At the two-day state championship the Wildcats finished with a seven-stroke lead over the second place team with a total team score of 546. Individually, Kaitlyn Howe finished the state tournament in 3rd place, Jessica Berry placed 8th, Lexi Huebert and Haley Schulte tied for 19th, and Darian Breshears placed 30th overall.

In issuing the proclamation Mayor Knapp declared, "Their success on the course and in the classroom brought positive exposure to our city, created a high-level of community pride, and served as an inspiration to all of Wilsonville."

The City Council also commended the team for their academic accomplishments for placing second in the 5A Girls Golf Academic All-State Awards with an average team GPA of 3.81.

In addition to acknowledging the team for winning the state championship, the Council also recognized the team for winning the Northwest Oregon Conference and also winning the OSAA Region One District Championship.

Mayor's Message

Help Plan Our Town Center for the Future

I often hear from residents and visitors that they wish Wilsonville had more unique, walkable places to shop, dine and gather to socialize with others. The City's Wilsonville Town Center Plan now underway seeks consensus on ways to accomplish that goal.

The ambitious long-range plan is developing a community-driven vision to transform the Town Center area into Wilsonville's primary community hub humming with activities, offering diverse shopping, dining, entertainment and an array of services and recreation opportunities.

To be successful this plan must represent the collective needs and shared desires of the community — so we want to hear from you! Please plan to take the City's online survey at www.WilsonvilleTownCenter.com/designsurvey (open July 26-August 20), and stop by the City's Town Center table at the community events listed below.

COMMUNITY BLOCK PARTY and more summer events!

July's Question of the Month

Every month throughout the 18-month-long Wilsonville Town Center Plan initiative the City is asking community members a Question of the Month. The questions are designed to gather feedback on a wide range of issues related to developing the plan that captures a community-driven vision and strategies to guide the development of Wilsonville's Town Center.

What would make Town Center more fun year-round (not just in summer time)?

1. Covered and heated indoor-outdoor dining and shopping options
2. Covered recreation opportunities such as covered basketball courts
3. Covered sidewalks (awnings, overhangs, canopies)
4. Covered market space for holiday and other wintertime markets
5. Indoor/outdoor performing arts space
6. Creative lighting that illuminates streets, sidewalks and parks

To share your feedback and participate in the Question of the Month stop by City Hall, the Library or the Community Center or visit the project's website below. To sign up for project updates and to get more information visit www.WilsonvilleTownCenter.com or contact Miranda Bateschell, Planning Manager, at bateschell@ci.wilsonville.or.us or 503-570-1581.

City Launches New 'ExploreWilsonville.com' Tourism Website

The City of Wilsonville has launched a new tourism website that provides visitors and residents with a wealth of information on things to do in and near Wilsonville. Led by the Wilsonville Tourism Promotion Committee, ExploreWilsonville.com advances a key element of the City's tourism development strategy.

Committee chair Jeff Brown, general manager of Holiday Inn South Portland/Wilsonville, said "ExploreWilsonville.com responds to the number-one issue identified in the tourism development strategy: the need for an authoritative website for Wilsonville tourism. These days, most visitors get their travel information online. ExploreWilsonville.com provides visitors and new residents with a central clearing house on local tourism attractions, major community events and hospitality businesses."

The committee formed a marketing subcommittee that focused on tourism website content and functionality. Staff of Clackamas County Tourism and Cultural Affairs ("Oregon's Mt. Hood Territory") and the Washington County Visitors Association ("Oregon's Tualatin Valley") contributed professional advice. Kevin Ferrasci O'Malley, CEO of the Wilsonville Area Chamber of Commerce, notes that during a survey of attendees at Fun in the Park 2016, the most-often requested content for a tourism-related website was a comprehensive list of area events for attendance by family, often with out-of-state visitors.

The objective of the City's tourism development strategy is to increase the occupancy level and room-rates of Wilsonville's lodging properties that generate transient lodging tax revenues, where half of proceeds support local police and other services sustained by the general fund. The strategy also seeks to encourage visitors to linger longer and patronize all kinds of area businesses in order to strengthen the local economy. State law requires a portion of local hotel/motel tax revenues are spent directly on tourism development and promotion; traditionally Wilsonville has spent approximately 50 percent of lodging tax revenue on tourism development and promotion and visitor services.

As a community situated on the edge of two counties—Clackamas and Washington—and located near Marion and Yamhill counties, the tourism strategy suggested that a City tourism website would best fulfill the needs of Wilsonville residents and visitors. As host community with the largest number of hotel rooms—over 600—in the North Willamette Valley and South Portland regions together with a strategic location near Oregon Wine Country and historical and agricultural attractions of French Prairie together with close proximity to the culture of the greater metro area, ExploreWilsonville.com takes a regional approach to tourism.

ExploreWilsonville.com was designed and developed by Parks and Recreation Advisory Board member and former tourism committee member Elaine Swyt, who operates local website-hosting firm Mediaphysics.

The City's tourism promotion program is a coordinated effort through the City Manager's Office and the Parks and Recreation Department. The committee is working to advance an increased level of tourism promotion activity, especially during the Fall-Winter-Spring tourism "shoulder season" when capacity is most available at area lodging and hospitality businesses.

Attainment of the Certificate of Achievement, the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting, represents a significant accomplishment by a government's management. Oregon Tech Students Wow Local Companies at Annual Student Project Symposium

Every June, seniors and some juniors at the Oregon Institute of Technology, or Oregon Tech, spend almost a year developing projects and inventions that address a need in the field in which they are studying. On June 7, almost 100 students displayed their innovations to companies, community members, and family and friends during the annual Student Project Symposium on Oregon Tech's Portland-Metro Campus in Wilsonville.

The projects are a culmination of the students' work while at Oregon Tech, and are in the various degree areas offered at the state's youngest public university, including engineering, technology, healthcare, business, and other applied degrees such as applied psychology.

"Oregon Tech students are studying in fields that are most in-demand right now in Oregon and nationally, and their inventions and projects put their expertise on display," said Laura McKinney, vice president in charge of the Wilsonville campus. "Industry members who attend have a chance to scope out talent at the Symposium, and engage with students and faculty in ways that lead to jobs and new connections that benefit Oregon Tech and industry. Our thanks go out to all of the companies that attended and sponsored the event, and to the City of Wilsonville for their sponsorship of the student awards."

For the second year in a row, the Wilsonville Chamber of Commerce sponsored two cash awards for the first- and second-place winners of this year's video competition, which explained in a creative way the students' projects. The winning team of engineers, which is working with a children's cancer research center to create a sensor to accelerate the efficacy of effective treatments for patients, won $300; with a second-place winner receiving $100.

Oregon Tech's Wilsonville campus has more than doubled enrollment since fall 2012 and is set to graduate more than 200 students in June. Overall, Oregon Tech is awarding over 800 degrees at ceremonies at all of the university's campuses, including Klamath Falls, Wilsonville, and Seattle, where Oregon Tech provides degree programs to Boeing employees on site.

Fireworks Safety Tips

Got Fireworks? Keep it Legal. Keep it safe!

Oregon law bans fireworks that fly, explode, or travel on the ground more than six feet — this includes bottle rockets, roman candles, firecrackers and M80s.

To be legal, purchase all fireworks at a licensed Oregon fireworks stand. Fireworks purchased by mail order or in the state of Washington or at Native American reservations may be illegal in our state.

Under Oregon law, officials can seize illegal fireworks, and you can be fined up to $500 per violation and/or arrested. You can be held civilly liable for damages resulting from improper use of any fireworks — legal or illegal. Oregon law also makes parents liable for damage caused by their children and allows fire departments to charge for the cost of suppressing fires caused by fireworks. Additionally, the use of illegal fireworks constitutes criminal activity, and your insurance policy may not cover you if you engage in a criminal act that results in damage.

Even legal fireworks are dangerous and have caused injuries and burns to users, especially unsupervised children. Also, during dry summer conditions, an errant firework can ignite vegetation, vehicles and even your roof.

Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue advises you to celebrate safely this year by following the following safety tips:

- Only adults should light or handle fireworks.
- Supervise children at all times when fireworks are being used.
- Store fireworks, matches, and lighters out of the reach of children.
- Use fireworks outdoors on a paved surface — away from buildings, vehicles and vegetation.
- Never point or throw fireworks at people, pets or buildings.
- Never alter fireworks or make your own. Home-made explosives can be deadly!
- Have a hose or bucket of water nearby to douse misfired and spent fireworks and to extinguish potential fires.

For more safety tips, visit Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue's website at www.tvfr.com.

Art Exhibit at CCC Wilsonville

Beginning July 5 with an open house reception 5–8 pm at the Wilsonville campus of Clackamas Community College, 29353 Town Center Loop East, the community college is featuring artwork from artist Micheline “Mickey” Ronningen.

Mickey, who earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, is showing 37 pieces of art including some that have never before been seen in public.

The exhibit runs July 5–Sept. 8, in the college's gallery that is open Monday through Friday, 7 am–5 pm. For more information about the exhibit, contact Joyce Gabriel at 503-594-0950 or joyceg@clackamas.edu.

CHIEF'S CORNER – CAR BREAK-IN PREVENTION TIPS

As the days grow longer and warmer the City of Wilsonville Police Department can experience a rise in reported car break-ins. To help reduce your risk of having your car broken into I want to share some tips you can take to reduce or prevent car break-ins that were originally developed by the City of Portland's Crime Prevention Program.

Car prowlers are opportunistic criminals who seek to quickly break into your car and take any valuables inside as quickly as possible. The crime can be completed in a minute or less at any time of day and in a variety of settings even if you leave your vehicle just for a minute. Many car break-ins occur between the hours of 10 pm to 4 am using a variety of methods that include: entering into the vehicle through an unlocked door, breaking a window, or using modified keys on older model cars to gain access. By far the most common method of entry is when a person leaves their car doors unlocked.

Car prowlers often wear a backpack or bag to transport stolen items such as laptops, electronic devices, GPS systems, mail, bills, documents with personal information, purses, wallets, luggage, gym bags, money, cell phones and chargers. Thieves are looking for anything they can grab and walk away with.

Theft is Wilsonville's top crime, and the following are steps you can take to reduce the likelihood or prevent this from happening to you:

- Before leaving your car, always remove the keys, roll up the windows, lock the doors and set the alarm (if you have one).

Police Chief
Adam Phillips

- Keep your car clear of items such as gym bags, backpacks, purses, wallets, briefcases, laptops, cell phones and loose change in plain view.
- Hide valuables in the trunk before you arrive at your destination and lock your trunk with a valet key, so a thief can't easily pop open the trunk from the car's interior.
- Hide chargers and accessories that indicate a GPS, mobile phone or other device may be stashed in your vehicle.
- Remove garage door openers, key cards, and house, work and car keys so that a prowler cannot steal your car or commit burglary. Keep your keys with you instead of putting them in a hiding place.
- Don't store or leave credit cards, identification or personal information in your glove box or anywhere in your car.
- If possible, store your car in a closed and locked garage and if you park outside your house leave your exterior lights on throughout the night.
- Consider installing light fixtures with a motion detector unit to cause the thief to think that someone has seen them when the light comes on and to make the prowler or thief more visible.
- Improve visibility where your car is parked. If you park on the street, choose a well-lit, open space. Trim back trees or bushes that block the view of your vehicle from your home and avoid parking near anything that limits visibility such as wooded areas, dumpsters, large vans or trucks.
- Don't leave your vehicle in unattended parking lots for long periods of time.

What to Do if Your Car is Broken Into

If your car is broken into, report the crime to the Wilsonville Police. For crimes in progress, call 9-1-1 and if the break-in already occurred contact the police non-emergency dispatch number at 503-655-8211.

I hope this information helps you and your neighbors prevent car break-ins from occurring in the first place, but if they do we'll be here for you 24 hours a day and 365 days of the year.

Adam Phillips, Chief of Police

Wilsonville Continues to Enjoy High-Quality Drinking Water

In June the City of Wilsonville released the 2017 Annual Water Quality Report, which provides water-quality information and testing results for calendar year 2016. The data table section of the report shows the amounts of regulated contaminants detected in Wilsonville's drinking water throughout the year. The report also shows detections of unregulated contaminants found in 2014 under the Third Unregulated Contaminants Monitoring Rule (UCMR3) promulgated by the EPA. Of 86 regulated drinking water contaminants, only 11 were detected at least once in Wilsonville's water. In all cases, the actual amount present was well below the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL), which is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water, according to the EPA.

Delora Kerber, Public Works Director states, “For the 15th year in a row since the treatment plant went online, the City's water quality continues to meet and exceed all regulatory drinking water standards. The results published in this report continue to demonstrate our ongoing commitment to providing high-quality drinking water to our consumers.”

The Water Quality Report includes results from lead testing during 2015, when samples were taken from residential taps inside older, potentially higher-risk homes in Wilsonville. The testing found that no corrective action was necessary and that none of the drinking water in the homes exceeded the EPA's Action Level (AL) of 0.015 milligrams per liter. Four of the 33 homes tested had very low levels of lead with a 90th percentile value of 0.002 milligrams per liter, which is 7 ½ times lower than the EPA's Action Level.

Publication and distribution of a Water Quality Report by July 1 of each year is required of all community water systems under the 1996 Safe Drinking Water Act amendments. Paper copies of the 2017 Annual Water Quality Report are available at City Hall, the Wilsonville Public Library, mailed upon request and online at the City's website, www.ci.wilsonville.or.us/WaterQualityReport. Reports from City Boards and Commissions

City Council Approves Transit Master Plan and New Method of Calculating Transportation System Development Charge Fees

At the June 5 Wilsonville City Council meeting, the Council held a public hearing and adopted on first reading an updated Transit Master Plan (TMP) which aims to make route adjustments and other changes to better serve the public transportation needs of businesses, residents and visitors of Wilsonville. The proposed route changes in the plan are cost-neutral with no changes in revenues or expenses compared to current operations and focus on more frequent and efficient service delivery. The main route changes proposed in the plan include: switching Route 2X service from Barbur Transit Center to Tigard Transit Center; dividing Route 3 so that there is a 3X commuter route to Canby and separate Charbonneau Shuttle; and streamlining the in-town Route 4 and expand evening and Saturday service; and reconfiguring Route 7 that serves the Villebois neighborhood. A second reading with prospective adoption of the TMP is planned for the June 19 City Council meeting.

During the meeting the City Council also held a public hearing and approved an amended resolution to update how the City calculates the Transportation System Development Charge (TSDC), which had not been updated since 2008. The amended resolution effectively increases the TSDC per single-family dwelling unit from $7,695 to $11,772 in order to generate adequate funding to pay for essential roadway and bike/ped improvements that are planned for the City's transportation network in the near future. The change also increases the non-residential TSDC fees to be charged based on the number of trips the proposed development generates. The City was able to lower the proposed TSDC increase by removing the Boeckman Dip Bridge Project from needing to be funded with TSDC at this time because Urban Renewal funding is being considered for the project.

Under Mayor's Business, the Mayor proclaimed the week of June 5–11 as "Wilsonville Wildcats Week" to acknowledge the athletic and academic accomplishments of the Wilsonville High School Girls Golf team who won the 5A Girls Golf state championship in May, as well as, acknowledging the team's success in the classroom with an average GPA of 3.81, which is 2nd place in the state for 5A Girls Golf teams. Also under Mayor's Business, City Councilor Charlotte Lehan announced that the proposal by local 4th grade students to name the "Three Sisters Oaks" on Kinsman Road as heritage trees is to be considered at the June 19 City Council meeting.

Under New Business, the City Council approved two resolutions to adopt a Collective Bargaining Agreement between the City Of Wilsonville and Wilsonville Municipal Employees Association (WILMEA) and resolution to establish a Traffic Infraction Diversion Program as an option available for the City's Municipal Court.

On the Consent Agenda the Council passed three resolutions. The first authorizes the City Manager to renew a five-year contract with Tualatin Valley Water District and Veolia Water North America – West, LLC, for the operation and maintenance of the City's water treatment plan. The second approved resolution adopts a new 2017 Official Zoning Map to incorporate previously approved Zoning Map Amendments and corrections. The third resolution on the consent agenda accepted roadway authority for portions of Stafford Road and Advance Road from Clackamas County.

Under legal business the Council moved to authorize the City Manager to send a letter to the Tualatin Valley Water District (TVWD) to inform TVWD that the City intends to waive the City's first right of refusal for the 59.7 million gallons a day to be drawn from the Willamette River as the City already has adequate water intake authority to meet the City's current and future needs for raw water to be drawn from the river.

During work session prior to the meeting, in addition to matters that came before the City Council during the regular meeting, the Council discussed and supported moving forward with a process to pursue a major amendment to the Year 2000 Urban Renewal Area to add the Boeckman Dip Bridge project to the URA.

Sandra King Retires After 22 Years of Local Service

In July Sandra "Sandy" King is retiring after serving as Wilsonville's City Recorder for the past 22 years during which time she staffed over 500 City Council meetings dating back to April 1995.

As the City Recorder Sandy has been responsible for most aspects of administering the City Council meetings, which has included developing and distributing meeting packets, taking and preparing meeting minutes, maintaining and archiving City Council documents and decisions. In this role she is also responsible for overseeing municipal elections, processing public records requests and many other official duties of the position for the City.

Sandy reflects, "I am going to miss all the caring people I have worked with over the years and playing a role in Wilsonville's day-to-day operations. Municipal government is a place where community members can make a difference, like when an eight-year old girl, Eliesa Lake, recommended to City Council in 2001 that the City should install holiday lights which they not only did, but have continued ever since."

City Manager Bryan Cosgrove states, "I view Sandy as my Council meeting co-pilot. She does all the little things behind the scenes to allow staff and council to have productive and efficient meetings. She takes particular pride in ensuring meeting minutes are an accurate reflection of council discussion, and her customer service is second to none whether it's dealing with public records requests or managing the city's archival records. She is the consummate professional, working quietly in the background and never seeking the limelight. I will miss her positive attitude and her daily greeting of "Good Morning, Chief."

Throughout her career in Wilsonville Sandy was very active on the Oregon Association of Municipal Recorders (OAMR) a statewide associations representing City recorders throughout the state. In 2002 she was elected to OAMR's Board of Directors and served as the organization's president in 2004-05, as well as, the Chair of the organization's Records Management Committee for many more years. In 2007 she was named by OAMR as the state's Recorder of the Year.

Prior to working for Wilsonville, Sandy was also the City Recorder in Park City, Utah, and held positions as a Records Management Coordinator for the City of Encinitas, California and also a legal secretary for a law firm in San Diego.

In retirement she looks forward to traveling, golfing, gardening, volunteering and is thinking about getting a puppy.

Sandy King is retiring after 22 years with the City.

High-Priority Charbonneau Utility Repairs Begin in July and are Expected to be Complete in October

Construction of the next phase of Charbonneau high-priority utility repairs is scheduled to begin mid-July. The three-year project involves the repair and rehabilitation of failing utility lines that are broken, partially collapsed or sagging as part of the Charbonneau Consolidated Improvement Plan, approved by City Council in Aug. 2014. This project is in the second of three annual phases with the first phase of construction completed last year.

This year approximately 2300 feet of sanitary and storm pipe that is cracked or corroded is planned to be repaired as part of this project using a technique called Cured-In-Place Pipe (CIPP). This method consists of inserting a resin filled liner through the old pipe that is inflated and steam cured to create a new pipe inside of the old one. The process generates a lot of noise, steam and an unharmed styrene odor during the curing process. The contractor is also planning to dig approximately 1700 feet of open trench to repair and replace sanitary and storm pipe-line in Charbonneau this summer as well.

As needed manholes and catch basins are also being updated to current design standards and new service pipes to individual properties are planned if needed.

Construction runs until late October and is to be performed by the City's contractor Moore Excavation, Inc. on weekdays, 7 am – 5 pm, with no work expected on the weekends.

Community members should expect daytime road closures in the areas of active construction, but normal traffic operations are to be restored by 5 pm each day. Access for garbage service, deliveries and emergency vehicles are to be maintained throughout construction zones. Residents are to be provided access to their driveways during construction, but delays should be expected. During active construction the contractor is planning to store materials, such as rock and pipe and equipment, nearby, along the side of the roadway and/or in nearby parking areas.

- Fairway Drive, Sanitary & Storm, Open Trench & CIPP
- French Prairie Drive, Sanitary & Storm, Open Trench & CIPP
- Juliette Drive, Storm, CIPP
- Louvonne Drive, Storm, Open Trench

Throughout the project residents should plan for additional travel time and noise and dust from construction. Interruption of utility services is not anticipated, however, there may be instances where residents may be asked not to run appliances with heavy water use (dish or clothes washer), flush your toilet, or take a shower for a couple of hours at a time. Also, not all utility providers know where their cables are located underground and interruption of cable, phone, and internet service is possible during the work. The contractor will coordinate with utility service providers to restore service interruptions as quickly as possible.

To follow construction progress and get weekly updates visit the project website at www.ci.wilsonville.or.us/651/Charbonneau-High-Priority-Utility-Repair or join the "Charbonneau Country Club" Facebook page. Weekly updates are being provided to home owner associations within the work area, which include Arbor Lake Townhome Association, Charbonneau Homeowners and Louvonne. Copies of the project construction map will be made available at the Charbonneau Country Club information center.
